A Series of Design Workshops, Winter 2013: Basic Design I-Relationships within the Frame.

Learn the elements and principles of design. Learn to support content in your 2-D work. Learn to work in a sketchbook to develop ideas. Learn to add impact to your 2 dimensional compositions. Learn exercises that will free you to make art from your authentic self.

Beginning artists and advanced artists will benefit from these workshops. Take any or all workshops. Six seats are available in each Workshop.

January 26&27-Introduction to Relationships within the frame/Shapes. Consider the first four lines of the frame. Discover the elements and principles of art experientially.

March 23&24-Shape&Form/3-D to 2-D

It is the artist's task to take what he or she sees in 3 dimensions and describe it in 2 dimensions.

April 27&28- Line, Texture, Value, and Color

In art when one element is put into relation with another, each alters the other. Learn to manage the elements.

May 18&19- Communication of an Idea

Style emerges as a logical result of resolving problems in the way that only you can resolve them. Learn the choices the artist makes to communicate visually.
