Join me online for a journey of Self-discovery leading to your own true path as an artist. The “timelessness” you experience while making your art will feed your soul. Your soul will feed your ART.

Through a series of e-lessons, you will learn to apply elements and principles of design to add impact to your personal visual statements. Full support and encouragement in your process will be provided by email, blog, or telephone. I look forward to a dynamic exchange—

Change your ART, change your LIFE!
